An enquiry was held to consider interference at the cutaway, involving ASHFORD HILL, placed fourth, ridden by Isobelle Chalmers and HEART OF THE CITY (IRE), unplaced, ridden by Tommie Jakes. Being a 7lb claimer, Chalmers was accompanied by jockey coach, George Baker. Chalmers was suspended for 2 days for careless riding as she switched her mount right-handed when insufficiently clear of HEART OF THE CITY (IRE), resulting in Jakes being forced right-handed off his intended line.

An enquiry was held to consider interference approaching the final furlong, involving the winner, GAIETY MUSICAL (IRE), ridden by Richard Kingscote, MIDSUMMER MUSIC (IRE), placed fifth, ridden by Tom Marquand, NEXT TRICK (IRE), placed third, ridden by Hollie Doyle. Kaiya Fraser, the rider of HELP ME RHONDA (IRE), was questioned and it was established that his mount had run onto the heels of MIDSUMMER MUSIC (IRE) and stumbled shortly before the incident had occurred and was not directly involved. Kingscote was suspended for 2 days careless riding as he allowed his mount to drift right-handed under a left-handed drive, resulting in MIDSUMMER MUSIC (IRE) becoming short for room and bumping and unbalancing NEXT TRICK (IRE).

It was noted that GRAY RAINBOW, placed fifth, lost its right cheekpiece approximately two furlongs out. The cheekpiece was inspected and as it was found to be in a serviceable condition, no further action was taken.

The apparent improvement in form of the winner, BRUCE BANNER (IRE), which had never previously been placed, was considered. Gary Brown's explanation that the gelding had benefitted the significant step up in trip, having had limited opportunities as a two year old and having been able to get cover and settle better on this occasion having run too freely previously.
